Invitation

On behalf of the organizing committee, we extend an invitation to you all to participate in National Conference on "Our Environment: Explore, Care and Share", being organized by the Government P.G. ### Bilaspur

Welcome to Bilaspur, a small but beautiful town in Rampur district in western U.P. located on the Delhi-Rampur-Nainital National Highway (NH 27) at a distance of about 30 km from Rampur. This town is known for its rich agriculture farms and beautiful landscape. The college provides a peace hub to the seekers of higher-education away from the noise and hustle bustle of city. College lawns are decked with rich flora.

Focal Theme

Issues and concerns related to environment have occupied dominant space in the present-day discourse. Ozone layer depletion, global warming, green house effect, change in climate pattern are some of the pernicious environmental degradations which are the result of our indiscriminate exploitation of natural resources, rapid industrialization and the pervading culture of consumerism. The problem is existential, so the challenge before us is to arrest this disastrous change. It is not that we have remained loath to the problem. Now the world is rallying to curb green house emissions. We have come a long way from Rio-earth Summit, singing of Kyoto-protocol, Copenhagen Summit to the recently concluded 12-day Paris climate summit or COP21, as it is popularly known. More than 170 countries, representing over 91% of world's Corban emissions, assembled to set an effective climate regime in place. World leaders agreed to move towards a path that ensures the increase in global temperature remains limited to 2°C above preindustrial levels.

No doubt, developing societies are unwilling to compromise the Corban space and growth remains the biggest imperative but we believe that development and protecting the environment are not competing goals. Our common task is to imbibe and popularize the concept of sustainable development. Development of new and green technology is the need of the hour. We have to redefine our priorities. It all requires a paradigm shift in our approach and thinking. Engagement of members of civil society is of utmost importance in our endeavor to provide a better, just, equitable and sustainable future. There is urgent need to create mass awareness and build-up an environment friendly culture. We have ensure that every one is able to live a life worth living on a planet worth living on. Here-in lies the future of our posterity.

The present seminar intends to focus on these pertinent issues of our times. This symposia provides a platform for not only dissemination of information and knowledge but also suggesting affirmative actions by building-up mass awareness for conservation and preservation of our environment which is common heritage of mankind.
